

Contents

Proem
Pathways to Alternatives Mukul Mangalik	10
Introduction
Imagining Alternatives : Exploring ways to other worlds Jai Sen	12
Acknowledgements	26

Open Space	1 Socialism
	Is Socialism the Only Possible Other World ?
	Rethinking Socialism Dunu Roy, Sajha Manch, New Delhi	30
	Socialism is both necessary and desirable Dipankar Bhattacharya, General Secretary, CPI(ML) Liberation, Delhi	42
	Women, freedom, and emerging worlds Kumkum Sangari, Professorial Fellow, Nehru Museum & Library, New Delhi	52
	Open Forum: Is Socialism the Only Possible Other World ?	60
	A frank and open discussion between Dunu Roy, Dipankar Bhattacharya, Kumkum Sangari, Delhi University students and faculty, and others

C o n t e n t s

2 Cyberspace

Open Space

Dreams of Other Worlds

The Politics of Knowledge Sharing 74

Suddhabrata Sengupta, media practitioner, artist, and writer, Sarai, CSDS, Delhi

New Technology in an Old Social Order 84

C K Raju, mathematician and physicist, author of the book Eleven Pictures of Time, New Delhi

Open Forum : The Promise of Cyberspace 92

An open exchange between Suddhabrata Sengupta, other members of Sarai, and others

3 The University

Open Space

How Open ? Open for Whom ?

A Culture of Closedness, A Struggle for Openness 106

Anita Ghai, Lecturer, Jesus and Mary College, University of Delhi

Under Threat : Open Space as Freedom 112

Nandita Narain, Reader, St Stephen's College, Delhi University

Open Forum : The University as Open Space 118

An open space for the presentation of diverse perceptions of the university as open space by people at different margins of a university, responding to and taking off from the presentations by Janaki Abraham, Anita Ghai, and Nandita Narain

Apunba : Steps towards Critical Engagement 134

Madhuresh Kumar, CACIM, New Delhi, and Yengkhom Jilangamba, PhD candidate, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi

Creating Open Spaces 142

Vanessa Andreotti, now Senior Lecturer, School of Maori, Social and Cultural Studies in Education, University of Canterbury, Christchurch, New Zealand

Open Space and Liminality: Notes on Sexualising the University 156

Oishik Sarkar, Human rights lawyer and independent researcher; now Assistant Professor, and Coordinator, Collaborative Programme on Law, Postcoloniality and Culture, Jindal Global Law School, Haryana

Glossary 178

Visual Credits 224

Index 226

Other Publications from OpenWord, etc